

Astronomy nights at Duxbury Free Library^y

Bring everyone in your family third grade and older to an evening of magic and wonder. Starting in the Merry Room, Brian Donahoe, a Kingston resident and long-time amateur astronomer, will show slides and give observing tips on how to see the most when you moon and star-gaze. The more you know, the more wondrous our place in the universe can seem!

Monday, July 6; Good Night, Moon

Thursday, July 23; Star Light, Star Bright: the constellations.

Starting in the Merry Room at 7:30 p.m., then on to Duxbury Beach for gazing with binoculars and telescope. Wear warm clothing and bug spray. Questions? Contact Ellen Snoeyenbos, teen librarian, 781-934-2721 x106
